

POLICE HOLD ADMIRER FOR SLAYING OF S WITH END WOMAN

VICTIM SEPARATED FROM HER HUSBAND FOR 3 YEARS

When he could trust his voice. "I left her because of this man Mansfield. He and Mrs. Jones were having some parties all the time, when we lived on Victoria street, West Somerville. I asked my wife to stop drinking and give up Mansfield. I told her I was going straight and asked her to. She laughed at me. She said I couldn't go straight. "Well, I took the little girl and left her. My wife went to Boston to live and I haven't spoken to her since. I have only seen her on the street occasionally. "I came to Haverhill last May and have been out of work a great deal. I knew Mansfield since he was a boy. He lived in Broadway, Everett, and deserted his wife and boys to live in the same house with my wife. She's no good. "COLLIER QUIT BOOZE. "Just before prohibition, when my wife and I were together, she was arrested on Saturday night with Mansfield. I went to No. 1 police station in Boston and learned they had been arrested late the night before for being drunk. At three that afternoon my wife came home. They couldn't have been alone with either one of them."

The little paperhanger gazed out of a window onto a field being ripped with wind. Tears slid down his face. "I'll go up to Boston tonight and see the body. Then I'll like to arrange for a funeral, but—well, he cried—'I'm broke. That's all, I'm flat broke. And I ought to bury her because—well, after all, she's the mother of my little girl.' "Mrs. Brown, sister of Mrs. Jones, gave an account of her sister's life. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward M. Chase of Penn. broke street, Boston, and after attending a high school here took an art course in a Boston school. Mrs. Brown said, and went to work as a telephone operator in the Back Bay.

Eleven years ago she married Percy W. Jones. A daughter, Dorothy, was born to the couple. They lived in apartment houses until Mansfield appeared on the scene. Mrs. Jones recently obtained employment in the filing department of the First National Insurance Company. She left there two months ago. It is said in June her daughter Dorothy graduated from grammar school. Her mother paid her a visit on that occasion. Since then her sister has not heard from her.

Mrs. Jones was the victim of a violent and brutal murder, climaxed by a knife thrust into the chest. The elaborate but amateurish attempt to make the murder appear like a suicide, the involved emotional difficulties of the woman and her rooming, and the fact that a violent end was expected for Mrs. Jones all point to a swift and easy solution of the mystery. The latter point was established by the Boston American. A reporter, seeking relatives of the dead woman, found that, in addition to her husband, Mrs. Jones had a sister, Mrs. Joseph M. Jones, who lived at New Hamp. street, Boston. It was established that Mrs. Jones was forty years old, was last seen alive on July 6. On that day, Mrs. Ruth Pender, who lives on the top floor of the Tremont street address, saw Mrs. Jones in the bathroom on her floor, which is used by various roomers. Medical Examiner Leary believes that Mrs. Jones was killed on or about July 6.

On or about July 6, Mansfield, who had been occupying an adjoining room for over two years, suddenly disappeared. The police found that in the past three days no one was seen to enter the room of Mrs. Jones, although prior to July 6 she had numerous callers. It was said that her husband had been seen in the house a week before.

SHOOT AT WIFE HE CALLED TOO PRETTY

Ten paces from a lonely woman a man fired two shots at her today in South street, Quincy. The woman screamed and fainted.

The man ran. An hour later William Pittella, twenty-seven years old, of No. 26 Arthur street, Quincy, was arraigned in court on a charge of attempting to murder his wife, who is soon to become a mother. "I love her too much," moaned the man. "She's too beautiful, other men want her. She left me not long ago. Today I pleaded with her to come back. She refused, so I tried to kill her."

Back shots missed their mark. Pittella fired a quarry near by, where he threw the gun away. He was arrested by Patrolman Chavarian. "After I killed her I intended to kill myself," he said. "I can't live without her."

BIG BEER SEIZURE IN NEW BEDFORD CLUBS

New Bedford, July 20.—Even the appearance of officers failed to stop the Ward Six, fashionable club of this city, from selling beer and the officers were forced to disconnect the barrels to stop the sale. DEATH RATE FOR 1921 LOWEST IN STATE ANNALS

The lowest death rate in its history was experienced by Massachusetts last year, according to the annual report of the State Department of Vital Statistics, published today. The infant mortality rate was also the lowest in the state's history.

The report showed that alcoholism caused thirty-seven deaths, an increase of thirty-eight over 1920, but a substantial decrease from the pre-prohibition days, when the deaths from alcoholism averaged 200 a year.

Of the 47,486 deaths recorded last year, about one-third resulted from organic heart disease, pneumonia and tuberculosis. Apoplexy, cancer and bright disease ranked next in order of frequency.

The death rate was 24.610 per

ROAD UNFELDER SAVED DEBY BY CHIMP WISHAP

Charles H. Dolan, Jr., of No. 57 Hancock street, Dorchester, shared with Secretary of the Navy Edwin Denby in a narrow escape from death in the Chinese interior, according to dispatches from Peking when the airplane in which the Secretary was riding, and which was piloted by Dolan, stalled 4,000 feet above the earth.

Dolan's presence of mind and cool handling of his machine probably saved Mr. Denby's life. Beneath the machine, when the engine stopped, was a jagged row of mountain peaks. The pilot's right hand brought the craft down in a sweep, and although it was wrecked in landing, its occupants were unhurt.

MARILYN HITS AT ZIEGFELD

"Billie's manager offered objections when she married Flo Ziegfeld. She says she hasn't regretted the step. She says she's happy. Why, then, isn't she generous enough to give me a chance? Jack and I will be happy together. Bill and Flo needn't worry on that score."

"And as for her miserable fling about champagne parties, let me say that the only champagne parties I ever heard of were those her husband invited me to, but which I declined to attend. Flo Ziegfeld sent Mr. Kingford to the roof nightly to ask me if I would go out with him, but I always declined with one excuse or another."

"Billie Burke suggests that I flatter myself that Flo's attitude toward me was no different than his treatment of all the girls in his employ. That's plain nonsense. Let me again refer to those offers of a diamond as big as my fist and that dealing string of pearls and the flowers and entree. Flo has lavished such offers on chorus girls."

"The trouble with Billie Burke is that she's jealous of my youth. She has showed it on many occasions. The night we opened in Baltimore she sat down front and I noticed that she never gave me the slightest applause or recognition when every other girl was enthusiastic."

"Billie Burke knows that a girl with the strenuous role I fill, who can not just a performance or rehearsal and who enjoys my excellent health, could not have attended many champagne suppers or revels much."

"Incidentally I telephoned Dr. Christian in Boston and he denied having given any interview to the effect that I was so ill the marriage might have to be postponed. There are mere trashy rumors circulated by persons with hostile motives, never anyone rather than offering me."

"Billie was a star when I was four years of age, with my parents in London. Mother still has the program. Billie was married to 'Billie's Little Love Affair.' So I should not quarrel with her. I should respect her."

"Why should an older couple like Flo and Billie interfere or attempt to interfere in the plans of a young couple like Jack and me? I never think of anything."

"And when I assert my rights they become abusive. They try to discredit Jack's picture to hurt me, but they have failed."

"SALLY HELPED BILLIE."

"Billie said I was a slave to elegance or something of the sort. Well I like nice things, not twatry, trashy things. All white and black and white, and in turbans, mushroom and off the face models."

GRANT PERMIT FOR SUNDAY GAME

Charges of conspiracy were made by Commissioner Daniel J. Leahy at a tempestuous star-chamber meeting of the Cambridge City Hall today on the question of granting a permit for a Sunday baseball game at Russell Field.

The permit, held up because money was collected at a game last Sunday in alleged violation of the permit, was finally granted to Captain Leahy, who is manager of the North Cambridge Columbus Club, the local ball team.

Newspaper men and outsiders were excluded from the meeting, and members and witnesses refused to talk when the meeting was over. Professor Carroll W. Dutton, the chairman, admitted, however, that no assurance had been received that money would not be collected at next Sunday's game.

During the meeting Professor Dutton was heard to say that the district attorney has authorized Captain Patrick J. Hurley of the police department to make arrests if money is collected at this game.

Councilman Leahy was the stern center of the meeting, and clashes between him and the chairman were frequent. At one time Professor Dutton ordered him in angry tones to sit down.

Chief of Police John J. McBride and Captain Hurley were witnesses.

FIGHTS FOR LIFE TEXTILE MILLS AS HE LANDS 350-LB. FISH

Rich men who like to kill big fish swim to Florida, not the Pacific coast, for their game, take it from Frank Niles, doryman on the swordfishing schooner Nyda.

George's hooks is far enough away to seek excitement, says Frank.

When the Nyda arrived at South Boston pier today to land a catch of swordfish there was one 350-pounder that caused awe and admiration.

"That bird swims the side of my life," said Niles, and Skipper Charles Nelson then told the story.

It seems that Skipper Nelson harpooned the fish from the "pulpit" on the schooner's bowsprit as it lay on the top of the water. The harpoon struck a glancing blow, but did not drop out. The fish leaped clear of the water and drove its stout sword clean through the two-inch plating of the Nyda.

With a mighty twist it then freed itself and disappeared.

After a time it reappeared, and the schooner followed its maneuvers. Finally it became quiet and Niles was sent out in a dory to kill it with a lance.

Why be satisfied with anything less than U. S. Spring-Step Quality

PART of the responsibility lies with the local shoe repairman. The greater part with yourself.

There is just as much difference in the quality of rubber heels as there is in any other kind of merchandise.

The U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels, a really scientific rubber heel, costs you no more than every-day rubber heels.

It is only fair to the shoe repairman to say, that almost without exception, he is using U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels on his quality-work.

The facts are all positive.

U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels are made by the United States Rubber Company, the oldest and largest rubber organization in the world. A Company that grows more of the rubber it uses than any other manufacturer.

U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels are made by people who know rubber—which is a vastly different thing from turning out any kind of heels to "catch the market."

For appearance, for wear, for comfort on the foot—U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels embody the responsibility of this Company for the highest service in rubber.

Ask your shoe repairman for U. S. Spring-Step Rubber Heels.

They cost you no more than every-day heels.

Why be satisfied with anything less than U. S. Spring-Step quality?

WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE FACES ARREST

By the Associated Press.
Topeka, Kas., July 29.—"Henry and me," the one, Governor Henry J. Allen, and the other, William Allen White, close friends for many years, today differed materially. The Kansas Court of Industrial Relations, of which Governor Allen was the foremost sponsor, was the point of discussion.

Mr. White, publisher of the Emporia Gazette, posted in the window of his newspaper office a placard denouncing the cause of the striking railway shommen. Mr. White had been told that the State attorney-general had ruled such displays were in violation of the industrial and anti-syndicate law.

"The order of the industrial court is an infamous infraction of the right of free press and free speech," Mr. White asserted. He proclaimed forty-nine per cent. sympathy with the strikers and said he would add one per cent. a day as long as the strike continued.

"We all know Bill," said Governor Allen. "If he insists on being funny we will have to do something about it."

"One who encourages lawlessness in order to advance it, is himself violating the law, and, therefore, is subject to arrest," said the attorney-general.

Dorothy Forbes Best Known in Society as Philanthropist, Says Betty Alden

By BETTY ALDEN.
MRS. LARZ ANDERSON.
Mrs. Arthur G. Rosh.
Mrs. Maynard Ladd.
Miss Dorothy Forbes.

You couldn't imagine a list of the "six most noted Boston society women" without Dorothy Forbes, could you? Neither could I, so she's down for today's "most noted," which list will be completed on Saturday. Already on the list there's a writer (that's Mrs. Anderson, of course), a suffragist (Mrs. Rosh), a sculptress (Mrs. Ladd), while Miss Forbes is somewhat hard to classify because she's noted for so many things, though possibly the word "philanthropist" would classify her best.

Not a half-hearted charity worker is the much-beloved daughter of the J. Murray Forbeses. On the contrary, there are those who consider her a good deal of a heroine, particularly so since they learned that Miss Forbes is now fighting the white plague, following a winter of overwork as chairman of the Metropolitan Chapter of the Red Cross.

THERE are few young women who have enjoyed a wider popularity than Dorothy Forbes of Commonwealth avenue, Milton and Dark Harbor, Me. And no wonder, for she has not only a charming and magnetic personality, but she is a clever equestrian, as well as an untiring and efficient charity worker.

You could hardly begin to tell the things that Dorothy Forbes has done, or all the offices she's held, but anyway, there was quite a number of years ago—the time when she was made president of the Vincent Club, a most significant mark of distinction; then, a number of years later, she served as director for the Massachusetts Society of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, an office to which she was admirably suited, for her love for all dumb creatures is known to all who know her. When the war came the Red Cross found one of its most dependable workers in Dorothy Forbes, with the result that she was made chairman of the Metropolitan Chapter of that organization.

During the last few years, when she has devoted practically every moment of her time to the Red Cross, Miss Forbes exhibited and rode her own thoroughbred at many a horse show, leaving the ring on numerous occasions with the coveted blue ribbon. Everyone admired the smartlike way in which she handled her mounts, and she was hailed as one of New England's best riders.

But it is these many who admire Dorothy Forbes' clever riding, there are many who admire her kindness to the poor, for she has played fairy godmother to many a destitute family. And when she wasn't riding her horses—she mustn't forget to add that she was one of the first Boston women to introduce polo for the fair sex—or doing some act of charity, Miss Forbes was serving as bridesmaid at somebody's wedding. Yes, she has quite a record as bridesmaid, which only goes to prove how popular she is.

Dorothy Forbes is a tall, slender woman, with very white hair, keen black eyes, and a warm, friendly smile. She is usually attired rather manfully, with very trimly tailored suits, high collars, and men's ties. It was about two months ago that she left for Saranac Lake, N. Y., to begin to fight against the disease which threatens her. As far as I know, she is well, and is not expected to return to Boston for about another month.

DOROTHY FORBES
An ardent Red Cross worker, clever equestrian and untiring philanthropist is Miss Dorothy Forbes, one of Boston's six most noted society women.

LAWHORN ACCUSER IS RE-ARRESTED

Charles Tindall, who caused a sensation when he told Cambridge police that Private John D. Lawhorn was the confessed murderer of Ralph W. Bowers, Winchester station agent, was in Cambridge Court today on a continued charge of the larceny of tailing machines and records from Cambridge stores. His case was placed on file, and he was immediately re-arrested by Boston inspectors on a warrant containing a similar charge.

SEIZE HUGE LIQUOR PLANT

Lowell, Mass., July 29.—The largest liquor raid ever made in this county was successfully accomplished by local police when they broke into a two-tenement house in Campaw street and seized five stills in operation, ranging in capacity from fifty to 150 gallons. Seventy gallons of finished moonshine, sixteen barrels of mash and a vast quantity of other materials, were confiscated. All partitions had been removed from two floors of the house, converting the dwelling into a mammoth moonshine plant.

NUMBER OF DEAF MUTES DECREASES

Washington, July 29.—Although the number of deaf and dumb persons enumerated in the 1920 census, 44,855, showed a slight increase above the 1910 figure, the ratio per million of population decreased from 485 to 425, the census bureau announced. This fact, also noted in European countries, was attributed in large measure to advanced treatment for children's diseases.

RECEIVERS FOR OIL COMPANY NAMED

Justices in Federal Court today appointed Irvin McCallister, Charles G. Bacon, receiver for the New England Oil Company, Inc., a corporation of Massachusetts, and named them as receivers for the assets of the company.

The appointment is the result of a petition filed by Henry S. Parker of Malden, for a receivership to satisfy a judgment. Lawrence Brown, attorney for a New York refinery, claimed that the company had not paid the amount of a judgment of $100,000, which was entered in the Federal Court in New York.

The total assets of the company are $100,000. The assets are $100,000.

POLICE PROBE REASON FOR CHILD'S PRESENCE ON ROLLER COASTER! Photogram shows how Jeremiah Myers, 2½, of No. 48 Corey street, Charlestown, was crushed to death on the Giant Roller Coaster, Revere Beach. Inset, at top, shows Joseph Curry, brake operator, who picked up the child. The hot bit bottom is David Myers, 16-month-old, brother of the victim. Witnesses say the child became frightened and jumped. The children were in the custody of Elizabeth Fitzpatrick, aged 12.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO WIN ACADEMIC HONORS TO CREATE A SPLASH AT HARVARD! The Three S's are giving the gate to the Three R's at the Crimson summer school—swimming, scuba diving and studying. Firstplace, observe that home edged Jack-knife dive above by Miss Sophie R. Eaton. The dive is almost perfect for form. If you don't know how to swim you soon learn at Harvard! Below you are gazing at Miss Cherry Grove getting dumped overboard. Swim or sink, is the motto. But of course there's plenty of instructors handy.

EVEN THE REGULAR ARMY OFFICERS COMPLIMENTED THE MASSACHUSETTS NATIONAL GUARD AT CAMP DEVENS REVIEW! For the first time since the war an infantry brigade (Twenty-first) of State troops were assembled under one command. The review was spectacular and colorful, winning warm applause from the large gathering. Large photo shows beginning of review. At top is Gen. Cox, who received the line, being received at camp headquarters. Left to right, Adj. Gen. James Stevens, Lieut. Col. E. J. Cox, Col. Cox and General Logan.

FLAPPERS HAVE FLIPPED THEIR LAST FLOP! TAKE From Mrs. Ruth Gardner, famous modelist. Skirts are coming down and moral standards are going up, she says. To the Boston says "yes and no." Albertina Vitale, on the left, likes 'em high—the skirts—and Miss Grace McLean, prefers to curdle her charming chin. Let's call it 80-50.

YOU'D NEVER GET THE BLUES WEARING THIS Charming Little Hat, fashioned of pale blue velvet crepe de chine. The patent of blue ribbon gracefully adorns the side of the model, which has just arrived from London. It has an advantage over many of the Paris models—it can be worn by any type of face. "HEY, SKINNY, IF YOU SPLASH ME AGAIN I'LL TELL ME BIG BROTHER On Yuh—He's a Cop!" Just a few of Boston's "Milk Little poor boys" doing a typically hot outdoor stunt—splashing a chum in the scolding but much agitated water of the Frog Pond, Boston Common. The little body on the right is as cool as a cucumber—take her word for it. She attributes this to the fact that she prefers to go chum in her swim on hot days—a brilliant but shocking idea she suggested to her adept sisters.

24 EXTRA AWARDS TO MAKE EVERYBODY HAPPY

Delightful vacation weather, and everyone is reasonably happy, anyway, but the Boston American takes genuine pleasure today in delighting 243 of its readers by announcing that they are winners in the $5,000 Famous Titles Test.

It was hard work, of course, for both the American and its readers. But the Famous Titles Test brings the American a double reward; it proved to be the most successful contest ever conducted by this paper and it has made the paper many friends. Those not fortunate enough to secure cash awards have the satisfaction of knowing that they were among the thousands provided with interesting "brain work" at no ex-

Merit alone determined the final judgment, of course. There were the nine major awards, the 100 $10 awards and the 110 $5 awards. Those to receive them were picked by following the rules of the contest which were, it will be remembered, explicit.

And in order that no one may feel slighted, the Boston American is making 24 extra awards of $5 each.

The American heartily congratulates the winners, and thanks every one—critic and non-critic—who, throughout the contest,

WHAT WE KNOW ABOUT THE BIG WINNERS

EDWARD J. MULCAHY, No. 204 K street, South Boston.

He is employed as an estimator in the manufacturing department of Thorp, Martin & Co., No. 65 Franklin street, Boston. He has participated in nearly all contests conducted by the Boston American, has never won an award before.

He used dictionaries and encyclopedias in determining his titles. The head of his firm and other members of their business family, who also were in the contest, had many friendly discussions as to their choice of titles, but it appears that Edgewood had the best of the contest.

Mr. Mulrany was in the aviation service during the war.

Mr. HANAN, Wallingford, Mass.

H. F. BANAN, Fallardville, Mass. Winner of the second award, $750. He is married and lives in Lawrence, Mass., but is spending the summer in a camp on a lake near the above village. He is employed as an electrical engineer with the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company. He has been in several contests, but was now for the first time. Mrs. Banan assisted him. He used the usual reference books and the process of elimination.

MRS. CHARLES F. BROWN, 5

Gundale road, West Roxbury, Mass.

With a record of 10 years.
Mrs. Brown lives in a very pretty cottage at the above address. This is Mrs. Brown's first contest. Her husband, after several attempts in other contests, won a minor award, and this time she was able to beat Mrs. Brown, who, in her first contest, showed him how to win with a real award. But it is not fair to him to let him be so easily defeated.

MRS. FRANCES KAHN, 53 Tru-dent avenue, West Roxbury, Mass.
Winner of the seventh award,
$150.
She is married and has one child.
Her husband has been in several contests, but never won an award. Mrs. Kahn in her first contest has won a minor award. She uses dictionaries and encyclopedias, also the Public Library.

His husband is employed in the Boston office of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

Q. JACONIA, 115, Rosinall avenue, North St. James.

Winner of the $100,000 prize. He is married and has three children, a son and two daughters, daughter at A. C. Crafts & Co., 121 Rutherford street, Boston. He has been in the service in the United States Marine Corps in Texas.

Mr. Jaconia did not submit a photograph, but he was interviewed by a reporter to try to win the Famous Title Test.

MRS. MILLY HIRSCHBAUM, of Clifton street, Roxbury, Mass. Winner of the Massachusetts 1500 Yards. Mrs. Hirschbaum has one child and her husband is employed with the Waldorf Restaurants. She was elected to the Membership Luncheon, but is now ready for another one.

"The Old House with the Young Spirit"

THIS is the anniversary of the birth, in 1304, of Francesco Petrarca, the Italian whose sonnets to Laura was his imperishable fame. The poet's relations with her were as innocent as they were beautiful.

THE Smithsonian Institution gives an account of the hop aphid, in which the annual fecundity of these minute insects is shown. The mother aphid produces thirteen generations in a year, numbering ten sextillion annually.

What Would YOU Do?

IF you were beautiful young Remember Steedon, a Massachusetts minister's daughter, whose sweetheart died before the wedding, would you try to bring up your baby among those who knew you in your own home town? Or would you run away for a fresh start with new surroundings? If you had your living to make, would you try to get into the movies? Dr. Brecherick, the family physician, advised Remember to go West. This she did, writing her parents a fictitious tale of having married and lost her "husband." She falls from a cliff and is told that the accident caused the death of her unborn child. Remember arrives in Los Angeles and determines to "pay the price" for a chance in the movies, but is refused. She is coached by Director Claymore and nearly loses her life in a storm scene. Father Steedon writes a scathing letter. This struggle of a young girl to work out her own salvation is stirring told in Rupert Hughes' greatest novel. On with the story.

WHEN she saw herself before her mirror now in the Paris gown she recoiled in red horror. A tide of blood swept under her entire skin. Her bosom was bare in a great moon sweep, there were no straps at all across the shoulders, and her back was revealed to the world. She had never known how beautiful it was until she stood before her mirror and looked alone. She was across her shoulder at the creamy charm of the gently rippling plans.

She rose to the challenge of opportunity and clothed herself in audacity. The consciousness of her beauty gave a lift of bravado to her courage. She was happy in her modesty and a plain thought that the Lord never gave her such dress for concealment. Her mother was pale with terror of the white gown she was putting on, but she had her own way. The unsuspecting Ned Ling came to the dinner and never dreamed that Mema was there to play the Lovers. She shuddered at her own coquetry, but it was set for her sake and in her own name.

She met the comedian with a mixed attitude of homage and of self-confidence. She made him proud and she made him happy. She met the comedian with a mixed attitude of homage and of self-confidence. She made him proud and she made him happy.

After the dinner they took into the dining room. She was happy in her modesty and a plain thought that the Lord never gave her such dress for concealment. Her mother

It was astonishing to Remember to find what a change clothes made to a soul to a small curtain. And there a Lillian twin of Mema wept and fought and won through a tiny drama.

From the dark, the happy glow

Ned Ling kept crying out his enthusiasm for Mema's skill. He was frank even in criticism of the picture as a structure. He roared at the comic relief and he shouted in ridicule of the harkened situation. Bernard showed his praise and his assurance. The picture was not a Bernard creation; Mema was.

In an interval during a change of scene Ned Ling said, with all the Making History.

INFANT MORTALITY in past ages has been something frightful, something almost beyond belief, and even today it occupies the time and the mind of leading physicians in all countries. The death rate among infants is being gradually reduced through new methods of hygiene, new preventatives and new remedies for infants. This reduction in the death rate has NOT been accomplished by adapting the precautions taken and remedies used by adults. Rather has it been to keep clear of the old methods, and choose after long research the precautions and remedies specifically applicable to infants.

This being so, it is necessary for us to caution mothers against trying to give her baby relief with a remedy that she would use for herself? Will she remember that Fletcher's Castoria is strictly a remedy for infants and children?

Children Cry For

Fletcher's

CASTORIA

Of Course You Love Your Baby.

You love it because of its very helplessness, because it can't tell you what is the matter when it feels bad. It can only cry. It can only look to you for help. But the more you love baby, the more you want to help baby, the more you ought to realize what a wonderful remedy Fletcher's Castoria is. It has been used for babies' ailments for over thirty years.

An experienced doctor discovered Fletcher's Castoria especially for babies' use. It is a harmless substitute for Castor Oil, Paregoric, Drop and Soothing Syrup. Doctors who know what is safe and good for babies have only good to say for it.

Don't neglect your baby. Get a bottle of Fletcher's Castoria and give baby a few doses of it. See how little it smiles at you as if trying to thank you for helping it. Soon you will learn to depend on Fletcher's Castoria as the only safe remedy for infants and children, and of course you won't think of saying anything for them that was not prepared especially for infants and children. So keep it in the house.
